Jesse Jackson visits Belle Glade

By ELKE SCHWARZ

BELLE GLADE—Rev. Jesse Jackson paid a visit to Belle Glade Tuesday, September 10, to speak with city officials and high school students and tour the city's southwest section.

An excited crowd awaited glimpses of the famous Reverend outside the Miller Mortuary on 507 SW 3rd Street, where he was to speak with members of the Urban League.

When he finally did arrive, he spent a few minutes with the crowd, calling them the importance of voting, before he went inside.

After Jackson met with the Urban League members, he held a short press conference.

"The poor of the country are not to be forgotten," said Jackson, and quoted the poem etched on the base of the Statue of Liberty. "The trend in the last five years is that the wealthy have gotten wealthier and the poorer have gotten poorer."

"The focus is on poverty. I challenge the have to come together with the have nots," said Jackson. "We must learn to live together."

Jackson commented on the AIDS problem as a health crisis to be left for the body of medical inquiry.

"Some say it's the muck, some say tear ducts, some say mosquitoes or homosexuality. No one is sure. It's just not one race or one area. We should call on the government to be a part of the support to fight this disease," said Jackson.

After his tour of the city's southwest section, Jackson addressed a cheering student body at Glades Central High School.

He was introduced to the students by school principal Dr. Effie Greer as a man concerned about rights of all people, both black and white.

Motivation was the key topic in Jackson's speech.

"Today is the first day of the rest of your life," he told students. "If your mind is made up you will rise, just like Jesus, my wife and me. Just because you were born in a slum, doesn't mean the slum was born in you."

"Health and housing are some of the reasons I came to this community," he said. "From the reception I've received and what I've already seen, I expect to come back."

He spoke against drugs and liquor, saying no generation has been threatened as this one. Down with dope, up with hope was a message he tried to engrain in minds of students.

He urged students who had tried drugs and liquor to come forward and make a promise to change their habits.

He said, "The Prodigal Son made a mistake. You have strayed a bit too far—you've made a mistake, you're alive, so you've got another

Goforth wins election

BELLE GLADE—City Commissioner George Goforth goes into his third term serving as one of Belle Glade's city commissioners, winning over challenger Wayne Mock by 840 votes.

Out of the city's 4,567 registered voters, 998 ballots along with 16 absentee ballots were counted after the city election, Tuesday, Sept. 10, making it a 22.2 percent voter turnout.

The votes for Goforth totaled 768, Mock received 225 votes.

"I thought we ran a good clean race," said

Goforth. "I'm real overjoyed." Goforth mentioned that he thought that a good crowd turned out for election day. "We both (Goforth and Mock) must have done something right for this much turnout," Goforth said. Mock didn't have much to say. He, as what's best for the many other people, extended his congratulations to Goforth.

"People told you the truth and lied to me," he laughingly told Goforth.

Both were unopposed in this election.

Thermal will be serving his fifth term and Bythewood, his second term.

Goforth, "I'm looking forward to another 2 years of service," Goforth said. "I always want to do

AIDS study held at PBJC

BELLE GLADE—Hospital nurses and area paramedics had a chance to take part in a 1½ hour AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) workshop Monday, Sept. 9, at Palm Beach Junior College, a course which could be used for continuing educational credit.

Lecturer for the course was Dr. Dale Taveras, epidemiologist with the Palm Beach County Public Health Service.

Armed with a general course outline, slides, and AIDS facts and figures, he proceeded to give an update on the disease.

Taveras defined AIDS as a disease characterized by a specific type of severe immunological defect, resulting in a severe susceptibility to certain opportunistic infections and a particular type of skin cancer known as Kaposi's sarcoma, which are raised or flat blue-black spots on the body.

He mentioned two lymphocytes which are in the body, B and T lymphocytes, aiding in the Loan default not likely to happen

By BILL DOUGHTY

"The sky is not going to fall," declared Dalton Yancey, vice-president of the Florida Sugar Cane League. "We are reporting that five area sugar companies are on the brink of defaulting on more than $154 million in government loans."

The more than 17,500 people in the Glades directly dependent on the sugar industry for jobs will still have them, sugar houses are not overflowing with last year's product and the current cane in fields will not be left to rot, Yancey said.

"Naturally, we're concerned about the situation, it's serious business. But, at the same time, the way this story has been treated gives the appearance that things are pretty bad. They're not."

He denounced the outpouring of publicity on the issue over the past three weeks as nothing more than "political saber rattling."

The joint congressional committee is gearing up to pass legislation on the 1985 Farm Bill.

Five area producers, United States Sugar Corporation, Sugarcane Growers Cooperative, Ocoee Farms Co., Atlantic Sugar Association and Okaloosa Sugar Corporation, announced Monday, Sept. 2, they will forfeit Commodity Credit Corporation loans for 430,000 tons of sugar worth $154 million. The companies have until Sept. 30 to redeem the loans.

What has not been pointed out in the furor over the possible default, said Yancey, is that those same companies have made that announcement twice before this summer.

The original loans were due June 30 and the United States Department of Agriculture granted a 30 day extension at that time. Again, July 30, the USDA granted another extension, this time of 60 days.

"The potential for forfeiture is definitely there, but the potential is also there for redemption," said Yancey, adding that the federal government will undoubtedly take action before a default can occur.

"They don't want the sugar, and we don't want them to have it," he said.

If the company default, the sugar becomes the property of the U.S. government, who then have to store the commodity while they try to sell it off.

Yancey said sugar legislation began with President Franklin D. Roosevelt's "New Deal" and has continued ever since, with the exception of the years between 1974 and 1977.

During that unregulated period, Yancey said, the price of sugar rose to 84.5 cents per pound in 1974, then dropped to 9.3 cents in 1977, before being regulated.

"Sugar legislation has been a part of every farm bill since the original in 1949," said Yancey. The original bill is modified every four years to reflect current trends, he continued.

While all commodities have some kind of loan program, Yancey said the sugar industry is different in that it is "a unique program."

In effect the government pays a price, last year it was 17 and three-quarters cents a pound, for sugar, through the CCC. The raw sugar is collateral for the "no recourse" loan, which means if there is a default, the collateral covers the cost of the loan.

"Actually the government is saying it will buy the sugar. At the end of the season, the producer, but it is bought and hopefully sells it at a higher 'market price' and pays off the loan and interest," Yancey explained.

The last time there was a default in Florida, in 1979, the government actually made $80 million from selling the sugar independently, Yancey said. It also kept sugar prices from running rampant as they had a few years earlier.

Like most commodities, sugar is subject to the laws of supply and demand.

"We know the demand for sugar is fairly static," said Yancey, "so we know that if we can control the supply, we'll have a stable market."

Yancey said the USDA is authorized to stabilize the market by adjusting imports of sugar.

He said the market was destabilized by four factors in the past year.

"The USDA set quotes so large they allowed too much sugar to be imported.

"The major soft drink bottling companies decided to switch from sugar to corn sweetener. They set the price and balanced the market by as much as 600,000 tons."

"Illegal importations by importers who sneak sugar not included in the quotas into the country by mixing it with other freight and then separated the sugar in the U.S. A court in New Orleans recently sent some of the importers to jail."

Yancey said about 300,000 tons of sugar came into the country that way before the loopholes were closed.

"The underestimation by government and industry officials of the 1984-85 sugar crop by some 200,000 tons."

Despite all the above factors, Yancey said, the USDA did not move to tighten quotas to decrease the supply, as the farm bill authorized it to do.

The sugar industry struggles against subsidized foreign imports, said Yancey. Those subsidies, he said, are the reason for the difference between the 21.5 cent a pound for raw sugar on the domestic market and the 4 cents a pound world market price.

"If we compete on an even plane," Yancey said, "I'd put any grower in the Glades up against any grower anywhere else in the world and we could compete, but you can't compete against the governments of Brazil or the Dominican Republic."

In spite of the rhetoric surrounding the possible defaults, Yancey is certain it will not hurt efforts for the 1985 farm bill.

"We'll have a farm bill in some form or another. The alternative is to let prices on commodities revert back to the 1949 level which would be far too expensive," said Yancey, adding that the current farm bill extends through the 85-86 season.

In the meantime, he said, people in the Glades should not fret about the loan situation.

"We're heading into another production season and that's where we should be concentrating our efforts. We will absolutely not be shutting down any of our fields or mills."

chance to live. Life is just too precious."

He also stressed the importance of education.

"More money for teachers, more scholarships and the head start program is the right thing to do," he said. "The cutbacks Reagan made on lump programs like wages wasunkind, but cuts in job training and scholarships was a fundamental mistake."

He added that this generation has a challenge and those who make an effort will build opportunities. Jackson said the same football and basketball players can become teachers, lawyers and doctors.

Agenda

Altman suggested that Finney get together with Chief of Police Mike Miller, and find a solution to the parking in his vicinity.

Citizen Jeannie Hankerson stepped forward and asked the commissioners about the benefits the black community will receive with the allocated county money, referring mainly to the Belle Glade's SW 5th and 6th Avenues.

Altman said the monies to be received from the county was not relative to the AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) problem and that the money was to be used for housing improvements all over town.

"You can't push five hours of TV a night over your education," he said. "Nobody has earned the right to do less than your best. If you do your best God will do the rest."

Jackson pointed out that people have to learn to live together.

"Turn to each other, not on each other," he said. "The one big difference we have for looking down on society is to stand and pick them up."

Jackson also stressed the importance of voting to the students so they can do their part to bring peace and justice to Belle Glade.

"We have a need for all different types of housing," said Altman. "Low income families need housing and they can afford it."

He said that approximately 9-10 buildings have already been demolished and pointed out that driving through the town, one doesn't realize their missing.

"But it is making a dent," he added. "We think we have the money and the people to do it with, but now we just have to do it. The trick is to get the new housing underway."

The city also approved a property annexation request as additional land for the upcoming shopping center.

City Planner and Developer Ramar Harvin requested the city annex the property owned by Harvin's O.K. Inc. and located on Main Street.

The property measures 100' x 400' by 1,169 feet and lies directly to the west of the recently annexed tract where Popeyes and Burger King are located.

Ordinances (first reading) approved by the commission on Monday night were:

- Providing for Public Utility Franchise to Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company

- Providing charges for mosquito control

- Providing charges for garbage and trash pickup

- Revising meter deposits, and tap fees.

Belle Glade Commissioners also had a treat at their meeting.

Jim Watt, District 81 representative spoke to commissioners on progress with legislative matters.

"This year has been the most harmonious session the legislature has had in addressing major issues," said Watt.

He spoke about growth management for Florida and for protecting the home rule.

He said that an approximate 800 people move to Florida a day and that Florida was the second state in the country to adopt a state legislature plan.

Watt said he hoped that the state and local government can work together instead of working against each other.

"Local government is the keystone to American democracy," added Watt.

Watt also touched on the matter of medical malpractice, transportation reform package, child abuse and SR 80.

In reference to SR 80, Watt said that it was "back on track" and "not to forget about it".

Mayor Tom Altman asked Watt about the question of federal revenue sharing for the state and municipalities.

Watt said he didn't know, but when committee meetings continue in November, he will inquire about the revenue sharing.

Altman expressed appreciation for Watt's effort on the SR 80 task force.

"We can hope and pray that we can finally see the end of the tunnel," said Watt.

Volunteers sought

The Palm Beach County Health Department Volunteer Service Department is involved in a program to recruit a very special kind of volunteer—the only criteria is that they be dedicated to helping people and their community.

Meetings will be held monthly, and only last approximately one hour. This is an ideal opportunity for super busy people to have a chance to serve their community and have some input in what they do.

If you have special abilities in the areas of public relations, art, writing, or leadership, we would like to know what you feel you could make a real contribution to

Not just a job

I got a rare, up close view of that unusually close knit fraternity called law enforcement this Saturday.

Officers from several local agencies ganged out at the 45 acre square of sugarcane along US 27 at 4:30 a.m. Saturday. Temperatures rose into the high 90s. They nervously gripped shotguns and automatic weapons as they stood at their positions.

Somewhere inside that very thick sugarcane was an armed felon, charged with the holdup of a nearby convenience store. The man had already shot a police dog twice, wounding it rather seriously. He was tired, unpredictable and could be considered nothing less than extremely dangerous.

The only way of finding him was akin to the proverbial needle in a haystack challenge. But the stakes very well could include their lives.

It is at times like this that you look at law enforcement officers and wonder what kind of person it takes to do their job.

It's a thankless task. The only time the general public seems to be aware of them is if they are writing a traffic ticket. Then the words are never complimentary.

How would you feel if every morning before you went to work, the thought would creep into the back of your mind that you might not return that night. That your wife could become a widow, your children left fatherless, all at the whim of some unknown person perhaps strung out on drugs.

How would you feel knowing all that and also knowing that many people look down on you? That people call you names, curse at you, just because you're doing your job?

It seems that a lot of people gravitate towards police work that have served in the military. But in warfare, the enemy is at least known to you. Police officers are never sure where the enemy is.

All this tends to bring law enforcement people very close together. When somebody remarked that the man in the cane field had shot his dog twice, one officer turned and said, "He didn't shoot it. He shot a police officer." Such are the ties that bind.

Nothing is routine in a police officer's day. Each call is a potential life-and-death situation. Is it any wonder that the job exacts a terrible toll in terms of broken marriages, alcoholism, possibly drug addiction and even suicide?

A city policeman recently left his job. The reasons were rather complex, but suffice to say it involved a great deal of harassment on the part of one particular citizen. It culminated with the burning of his home. Anyone would have left to avoid such harassment.

Perched on the center of that harassment now grins to himself, satisfied that he won. He didn't. He lost. We all did.

Sure, cops have their faults. They are, after all, only human. There's good ones, bad ones, and ones in between. They make mistakes. Some were made this particular Saturday.

But in the end, the prisoner was caught. There was no loss of life. Some property was damaged, but what is in retrospect?

When the chips are down, any law enforcement officer will put his life on the line for any citizen. Remember that the next time one pulls you over for speeding.

And if you should happen to see an officer with a black band around his or her badge, you'll know that one of their own has been killed in the line of duty. It's their way of remembering a comrade has fallen. He was just doing his job.

Why not take a gamble on a lottery?

In a state as starved for additional revenue as Florida is, not having a state-run lottery is simply pure stubbornness on the part of political conservatives.

The lottery is supported by Florida Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington and the campaign is headed by Excellence Campaign. An Education Lottery (EXCEL) Lottery monies have been proposed for use in education.

A drive is currently underway as lottery supporters try to gather 342,000 signatures from registered voters in an attempt to get the lottery question on the November 1986 ballot. The question would then be in the hands of the voters.

Twenty-two states presently have lotteries and officials find them a great help in defrauding costs to taxpayers. These lotteries are being conducted in states comprising about 60 percent of the nation's population.

The New York lottery last year contributed $615 million to that state's schools. Think what that kind of money could do to improve education in this state.

Gov. Bob Graham opposes state lotteries and a bid in the Florida Legislature to get the lottery issue on the ballot next year was defeated. Those who oppose a lottery say it takes money from the poor, which they could use to buy food or pay rent, rather than taking a chance on winning big. They also question the morality of gambling.

That thinking is hypocritical in a state that already allows dog racing, horse racing, jai-alai and bingo. They flourish and no one is twisting arms to participate.

Why deny people who are caught in the revolving door of poverty, a glimmer of hope of breaking free? That money for food or rent is often wasted in other fashions, without any possibility of gaining rewards. The state has no qualms about having alcohol available for sale (and taxation).

The money that would be spent in legal lotteries often ends up in the pockets of criminals via illegal betting now. It's a fact that people are going to gamble. Why shouldn't the state take a slice of that pie and put it to positive use?

The reason Bob Graham and the legislature did not allow the lottery question on the ballot is because they knew it would pass. If the petition drive is successful, it will pass, because that is what the majority of the people in this state desire.

Turning the other cheek....

Brother Bryan of Birmingham gave a needy man the overcoat off his back. He prayed with a man who held him up at gun point. Was he all right or was he being a Christian?

Jesus gave the following advice in the Sermon on the Mount: "You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' But I say to you, Do not resist one who is evil. If someone strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. If anyone sues you, let him have your cloak also; and if any one forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to him who begs from you, and do not refuse him who would borrow from you."

Turning the other cheek has been scoffed at as being impractical advice. A university student was admitted to the health center with knifewounds.

When asked about them he said a fellow pulled a knife on him and demanded his billfold, "I tried to take away the knife."

His questioner asked him how much money he had, to which he replied, "About two or three dollars."

His approach wasn't very practical. It would take plastic surgery to make his thumb work again.

Brother Bryan convinced the hold-up man while praying that he was doing the wrong thing. The love in Christ can do wonderful things if we can have the faith to trust in it.

Christ's teachings are not easy and sound impractical. It is the world of force and success, but not always dealing with it.

Here Christ is giving another new dimension to the teachings of the Old Testament. The teaching known as the lex talionis, or the eye for eye, was a step-up from the unlimited revenge of many people.

Dr. David
T. Evans

Everglades Presbyterian Church

duty does not get recommended for a medal. It is only as we go beyond the requirement that we really get into the spirit of service.

Finally, Christ says don't refuse one who begs from you. None of us like to be made a sucker. Who knows, we may be entertaining an angel unaware, or as Jesus says, anyone who does it to the least of my brethren does it unto Love cannot be administered according to strict standards or only to the deserving, for we cannot always tell. Ministers are known as "soft touchers" by traveling panhandlers, but better than this is to pass up one truly in need.

This teaching is hard and seems impractical but by acting in love we can show Christ in our lives and thereby communicate His love as nothing else can.

Give him your cloak also; go the second mile and do as Paul says, "Do not be overcome by evil but overcome evil with good."

Downs receives Recognition Award

Members of the Community Relations Board of Palm Beach County selected Sister Patricia Downs as the recipient of their Recognition Award for 1984-85.

Sister Pat is founder, along with Betsy Farar of the not-for-profit organization Neighbors Organized for Adequate Housing (NOAH). NOAH describes itself as a bridge builder in the Belle Glade Community. NOAH has been able to bring together diverse groups such as government officials on a county and citywide basis, church groups, Belle Glade citizens and the broader Palm Beach County citizens to seek solutions to the housing problem.

Sister Pat is responsible for the preparation of newsletters, educational programs, seeks government and non-government funding sources, provides workshops and training of NOAH, which is establishing adequate and affordable housing for citizens of the Belle Glade area. NOAH is funded by the community as a neutral organization developing strategies for community development.

The vision of NOAH is that adequate and affordable housing enhances and empowers the dignity and self-concept of the people in the community.

Sister Pat began her work in the Belle Glade community by establishing with another Sister the St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Center. This organization ministers to the social, medical, psychological spiritual needs of the Haitian Community and others in Belle

Walker gives passing grade on opening game

BELLE GLADE — "Overall we gave our team a passing grade on Friday's performance," said Glades Day Head Coach Byron Walker on his team's performance against Moore Haven and King's Academy in last week's jamboree.

The Gators and Moore Haven battled to a 0-0 tie in the first quarter of play, then defeated King's Academy, 8-0 in the final stanza.

Walker said his team made a lot of "young" mistakes in the two quarters of play, but feels those will correct themselves as his team gains experience during the season.

"We didn't practice Wednesday or Thursday because of the rain, and you just can't stay on the field and be prepared when you don't practice for two days," said Walker.

He commented on how the Gators' timing was off against the Terriers from Moore Haven but when his team faced King's they were much smoother, and much more confident about their abilities.

Walker singled out the play of senior quarterback John Hundley, and senior running back Jorge Suarez, as two very big pluses for the Glades Day offense.

The Gators held off three consecutive running attempts by King's, which forced the visitors to turn to the passing game.

Walker continuously made the comment that you win football games with defense, and get in the papers with the offense.

Of Hundley the head coach said he ran the option well, and showed good leadership on the field.

"John displayed good quickness, and threw the ball well. He demonstrated good intelligence and savvy, and he knows what we're trying to do out there.

"Some may not believe it, but John knows as much about our offense as I do," said Walker.

"I feel Jorge will fill Echols' (Philip) stand-in running back from last season, show real well. We may have to quicken up the middle, maybe give a little more speed to the outside," the head coach said.

Walker said if there was as an aspect of the game he was disappointed in, it would be the passing game of the Gators.

"We threw the ball well. We just didn't catch it," he said.

He also had high praise for Terrier running back Nathaniel Kelly.

"Kelly has good speed, and instincts. If he gets a little more help from his offensive line he could be a much better job," he said.

He also stated, if the Terriers would become a little more disciplined, they could become a team to be reckoned with.

The Gators will face Moore Haven again in their season play on November 15, at Glades Day.

Walker got a chance to watch Benjamin, who will be one of the Gators' main competitors for the conference title, and came away impressed.

"They were a well organized football team," said Walker. "I just hope we can catch up to them, but physically I don't feel they're necessarily better," he added.

He was also impressed with their sophomore quarterback.

Said Walker, "I don't even know his name,

but I have a feeling I may get sick of hearing

his name."

Gators vs. Rams Friday

By ERIC KOPP
BELLE GLADE — The Glades Day Gators are expecting to face a big football team, as they prepare to do battle with the Rams from John Carroll in Ft. Pierce, Friday night.

"We're going to face a big football team,"

The Rams got a fullback

that goes around 210

pounds, and two tackles at 250 pounds

each," said the Gators'

head coach Byron

Walker.

Offensively he said the Gators will be a little bigger than the Rams, but added the Rams defense is very quick.

Walker said south

reports show that the Rams will run the ball

a lot, but that they do have the ability to throw the ball.

He said the Rams

will run the football up the middle from the I-formation, and then

try to finesse their block to the outside.

Defensively he said

the two teams are much the same with both playing a shade

of type of defense.

"If we expect to come out on top, we're going to have to establish the option:

right off the bat, then work the inside," said

the Gators' head mentor.

Walker said the

Gators' passing game

should work well

against John Carroll,

"if we can catch it."

He said another plus for the hosts, is the fact they have a new coaching staff with 15

years experience.

Said Walker, "actually the game is a toss-up. Our defense will be the key, they're going to have to bend

but not break."

School night for cub scouting

School Night for Cub Scouts will be held at Moore Haven Elementary School on September 12, 1985, at 7:30 p.m. for the Glades Scout District, which includes Clewiston, Belle Glade, Pahokee, South Bay and Moore Haven.

According to Scout officials, several schools and homes will be open to receive new Cub Scouts and adult leaders. This is a major phase of the fall round-up of youth members and adults in the Gulf Stream Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Prospective boys 7 to 10 years of age are invited to attend this special meeting at a school or church in their neighborhood.

Invitations will be distributed in the second, third, fourth, and fifth grades. All Cub Scouts are asked to wear their uniforms to school on September 12th to remind others that they too can become Cub Scouts.

Leaders of all Cub Scout packs will be participating.

School Night meetings will be held at Clewiston Primary School, W.C. Owen Avenue, and at Friendship Baptist Church, Tennessee Avenue, Moore Haven Elementary School, 5 SW Avenue G, Belle Glade; Community United Methodist Church, 401 SW First St., Belle Glade, and at St. Phillip Benito Catholic Church, 708 South Main St., Belle Glade.

In Pahokee, the meeting will be held at Pahokee Elementary School, 560 East Main Place. In South Bay, a meeting will be held at Roosevelt Elementary School, 1321 West Palm Beach Road.

In Moore Haven, the school night will be held at Moore Haven Elementary School.

The Cub Scout program will be explained in detail to those attending. Boys should bring their parents or guardians. Registration fees will vary from $1 to $5. The fees will be approximately $3 for adults, and $6.60 for the Boys Life magazine.

The object of Cub Scouts is to train youngsters 7-10 years old in character, citizenship, and mental and physical fitness.

This is accomplished through a planned program of crafts, games, achievement awards, and parent participation.

Boys meet each week for about an hour and a half in a den leader's home. Dens of 6-8 boys each come together with parents once a month for a den meeting.

Webelos dens are for 10 year old boys who have a male leader. The Webelos program prepares the youngsters for a Boy Scout troop.

This year marks the first time the Cub Scouts have been included in the Fall School-Night registration. Second graders are eligible for Tiger Cubs, the newest program of the Boy Scouts of America. Tiger Cubs join with an adult partner and work with their parents to earn exciting monthly themes, leading up to graduation into Cub Scouting next spring.

The Tiger Cub motto is "Search, Discover, and Share." When a Tiger Cub and his adult partner join, they pay $6 which includes registration and materials packed for both.

Raiders try for new record

BELLE GLADE-Glades Central head football coach Dan Brown's goal this year is to try and beat last year's record of 6 wins, 4 losses.

"We have a lot of seniors on the team this year, but only a few are returning players," said Brown.

Brown named Darryl Sanders, Running Back Johnny Ivory, and Running Back/Defensive End Eugene Lawson, as a few of the key players on this season's Raiders team.

"We had a real good spring practice. We've got a good running and passing team this year," said Brown. "I feel comfortable with the offensive line coach; Ronald Cook, defensive back coach, Odexter Freeman, receiver coach, and Jay Seider, coaching the defensive line."

Brown is looking forward to a good season. "I'm always optimistic," he said.

Southern Bell hunting for missing tots

Southern Bell is joining in the effort to assist in the search of missing children and we want to put them to good use," says Marita Sullivan, Southern Bell spokeswoman.

Beginning with the September telephone bills, photos of two missing children are being featured in the company's "Bill 4 Bell" news.

"We encourage our customers to get involved and be aware," says Sullivan. "These children could be in your neighborhood."

production of antibodies, and cellular immunity, respectively.

"Mostly the helper T cells are lower in AIDS victims and the cell's quality is also impaired, making them incapable of performing functions," said Tavares.

Because of the lack of the helper T cells, victims are more susceptible to opportunistic infections, which, said Tavares, hardly ever occur to a person with normal immune functions along with Kaposi's sarcoma, also a good indicator of a bad immune system.

Delving into the etiology of AIDS, Tavares said AIDS was first discovered in 1979 in New York City, but the virus causing the disease, known as HTLV-III (Human T Cell Leukemia Virus), was discovered 1 1/2 years ago.

He said it is believed that the disease could not have been detected in America before 1979 and placed under a different disease category.

"It could have occurred in underdeveloped countries with a poor medical system," Tavares said. "But not here with our advanced medical system."

"No one knows for sure where it came from. It may have come from Africa or it could have been a virus which mutated into another virus," he noted.

Along with high mortality rate, the AIDS increases the cost to society every six months.

"But," said Tavares, "the good news is that cases are doubling every year now, instead of every six months. Maybe soon, it'll go up every two years."

Tavares attributes the slowing rate to the fact that many susceptible certain risk groups have already been affected.

"In New York City, the number of cases are already slowing down, because it was one of the first places to be affected with AIDS," said Tavares.

The incubation period for the disease can be anywhere between two months to five years, maybe even longer. The virus is in the blood, but hasn't yet caused any complications.

As of yet, there is no cure for AIDS. "There is no good, easy preventative measures and no medication to prevent the disease," said Tavares. "It is fatal. The control of infections are dependent on a good immune system."

Deaths

Wiley Tillis

PAHOKEE - Wiley Tillis, age 82, of 195 Bayan Avenue, Paahokee, died Friday afternoon at 5:25 in the John F. Kennedy Memorial Hospital in Atlanta.

Although he had been in declining health for a number of years, his death came unexpected.

Mr. Tillis was born in Glen St. Mary, Florida, on September 25, 1902, son of the late Charley and Janie Hicks Tillis.

Mr. Tillis moved to Paahokee in 1932 from Plant City when he purchased the Inlow Bakery.

Mr. Tillis changed the name of the bakery to the Hometown Bakery, and was known for his bread and donuts.

For more than 20 years, he delivered

"Tendercrust" bread and fresh glazed donuts from Indiantrout to Moore Haven.

Even after his retirement, Mr. Tillis continued to bake pies for dinners at the First Baptist Church and other occasions.

Lonnie, Mr. Tillis' brother, came to help in the bakery business and moved his family, which included a son named Melvin, to Paahokee, and that is how Paahokee came to be known as "The Home of Mel Tillis".

Mr. Tillis was a member of the Paahokee Chamber of Commerce, the FAFF Club, and a former member of the Paahokee Rotary Club. He was a long-time member and Deacon of the First Baptist Church.

On July 28, the First Baptist Church honored those couples married over 50 years, among those honored were Wiley and Eula Tillis for 61 years of marriage.

Mr. Tillis is survived by:

his wife, the former Eula Mae Jaudon;

one son, W.F. Tillis of Paahokee;

one brother, Virgil Tillis of Wilson, North Carolina;

one sister, Eva Estes of St. Simons Island, Georgia;

three grandsons, Frank Tillis, Jr., of Paahokee, George Tillis and Tom Tillis both of Punta Gorda; seven great grandchildren, Tony Tillis, Jason Tillis, Aaron Tillis, Sam Tillis, Krystal Tillis, all of Punta Gorda, Wiley Tillis and Christopher Tillis, both of Paahokee.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Paahokee.

The Reverend Jon Hudson, Pastor, and the Reverend Mickey Evans, officiated.

Interment was in the family lot at Port Mayaca Cemetery.

Serving as Active Pallbearers were: Ralph Crews, Julian French, Elmer Jones, Ralph Johnson, Julius Moon, and James Wilkinson.

Serving as Honorary Pallbearers were: R.O. Crosby, Marvin Levins, Olaf Boe, Marvin Crosby, Jess Humphrey, and Jim Wilkerson.

Serving as Honorary Escort were members of the Everglades Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

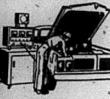

The Wetherington Funeral Home, Cypress Chapel, Paahokee, had charge of the arrangements.

Hillery attends Convention

ATLANTA Mrs. Annie L. Hillery, a master cosmetologist and owner/operator of Hillery's Beauty Salon at 613 S.W. 14th St., recently attended the Brommer Brothers 1985 International Beauty Show held August 17 through 19 at the Marriott Marquis Hotel and the Hyatt Regency in Atlanta, Ga.

This was the 38th International Beauty Show, and the 10th year Mrs. Hillery has attended the convention held in Atlanta.

While in Atlanta, Mrs. Hillery said she participated in a number of workshops featuring hair and makeup consultants and international hair designers Floyd Kenyatta, Paul Mitchell and Jean Bras.

Among the many classes attended by Mrs. Hillery included "A Rainbow of Colors" and "Jazzy Hair Color" for black hair.

Mrs. Hillery said the highlights of the convention included a church service conducted by Rev. Dale Bronner, a tour of the city of Atlanta, and the meeting of Miss Latoya Jackson, of the famed Jackson family.

Mrs. Hillery said Miss Jackson was promoting "ahogany" "agony" products.

New telephone trouble location plan

When you have a problem with your telephone service, it's important to know which company to contact for repair.

Southern Bell provides and maintains telephone lines. If a Southern Bell service call is made and the repair problem is not in the telephone line, it's charged $25.00 for the visit to locate the trouble. And the repair person isn't authorized to fix the telephone set.

Effective August 20, Southern Bell began offering an optional services to single-line and business customers. The Trouble Isolation Plan (TIP) permits customers to pay a potential $25 Trouble Location charge," says Southern Bell spokesperson, Marita Sullivan.

"Customers who subscribe to TIP, for a $1 monthly charge, will not be liable for the charge to locate trouble in a single line."

Southern Bell still repairs problems in the telephone lines which carry calls to and from a home or business. The company also maintains inside wiring unless the customer specifies that he wants to maintain his own. If a customer wants to maintain his own inside wiring, he should notify Southern Bell to receive a monthly credit of 55 cents on his local telephone bill. If a customer leases a phone set, TIP repairs problems in that equipment. If a customer owns his telephone equipment and maintains his own inside wiring, he should notify Southern Bell to receive a monthly repair vendor of his choice will repair the equipment. Repair charges vary depending on the supplier's warranties and repair policies. Some possible line problems include:

- Can't call in or out on all phones
- Noise or static on all phones
- Can't hear or be heard on all phones
- Cutoffs
- Some possible set problems include:
- Stuck button(s)
- Frayed cord
- Cracked plug-in device
- Can't call out or hear on only one telephone set

Crashed plane thought to be smuggling drugs

BELLE GLADE - A twin-engine Piper Mojave airplane, suspected of attempting to smuggle illegal narcotics, was discovered at 9:30 p.m. in a cane field approximately 18 miles southeast of Belle Glade, near Brown Farm Road, Monday.

According to Deputy Larry Lamb of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, the abandoned aircraft apparently attempted to land at a clandestine airstrip near Cowart Sod Farms. Sheriff department reports stated the plane crashed while attempting to land. Evidence at the scene indicates it may have been used to smuggle illegal narcotics into the county from a country in South America. Investigations into the incident are being conducted by the Organized Crime Bureau of the sheriff's department.

New location for Army office

The Army Recruiting Office, Alan R. Paczkowski, commanding officer of which services Belle Glade, recently moved to a new location in West Key West.

A grand opening ceremony was held Friday, Sept. 6, for the new office located at 4611 Okeechobee Boulevard. The office provides information on Army men and women in the Army for the Belle Glade area about the opportunities available.

Speaking at the ribbon-cutting ceremony in today's ceremony was Lt. Col. army," Paczkowski said.

In charge of the new office is army recruiter Sgt. 1st Class Henry S. Brooks, 16-year veteran who has been a recruiter for 10 years. He will be assisted by six other recruiters including one who will specialize only with the Army Reserve enlistments.

"Today's army has a lot to offer," Paczkowski and Brooks said in a joint statement on the opening of the new office. "That includes opportunities to learn hundreds of skills and also earning thousands of dollars for attending college."

The money for college was in direct reference to the new GI Bill and Army College Fund. A four-year enlistment can result in as much as $25,200 for university studies and a two-year enlistment can provide as much as $17,000 for college.

WE'RE HURTING.

Saving lives can be very expensive. The costs of our disaster relief and other humanitarian programs keep mounting.

And we can't afford to come up short.

Please help.

Take-along lunch

Pasta Salad Italiene is a take along meal made with vegetable juice and high in vitamins A and C. The juice adds lots of extra flavor to this marinated salad. To round out your menu, include a thermos of soup and a piece of fruit.

Ingredients

- 1 can (6 ounces) vegetable juice
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 tablespoon wine vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves, crushed
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- 1 1/2 cups cooked rotini macaroni

In medium bowl, mix juice, oil, vinegar, basil and garlic until well blended. Add rotini macaroni, ham, cheese, olives and onions; toss to coat all ingredients thoroughly. Cover; refrigerate at least 2 hours or overnight to blend flavors. Makes 3 1/4 cups or 2 servings.

Add-A-Crunch Adds Fiber Deliciously

Here's a fun way to add fiber to your diet. You won't become bored with Cinnamon Add-A-Crunch, a versatile topping you'll enjoy finding new ways to use.

Sprinkle this tasty treat over any food where you might normally use nuts...on puddings, ice cream, oatmeal, fruits and fruit salads.

It's easy to prepare and can be stored tightly covered in the refrigerator up to 3 months. Take a small plastic bag of Add-A-Crunch to work and stir into your lunchtime yogurt.

Ingredients

- 1-1/4 cups Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
- 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/3 cup butter or margarine, melted

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Cook in 10 inch skillet over medium heat, stirring constantly, 5 to 7 minutes or until golden brown. Spread onto ungreased cookie sheet to cool; store in tightly covered container in refrigerator up to 3 months.

Serve as topping over fruit salad, fruit, yogurt, frozen yogurt, ice cream or pudding.

Makes about 2 cups.

Beating the "Brown Bag Blues"

For many, August and September means starting a regular school routine again. But that doesn't mean lunch time has to be routine. Take a look at the alternatives.

School lunches subsidized by the USDA are tasty, inexpensive and nutritious. They are required to offer at least one-third of a child's daily dietary needs. The school lunch meal pattern consists of 1 cup fluid milk, 2 ounces of lean meat, poultry or cheese, one-half cup cooked dry beans or 4 tablespoons of peanut butter, three-quarter cup of 2 or more vegetables or fruit or both, and one slice of whole grain enriched bread or biscuit, cornbread, muffin, or tortilla.

And there's more good news. School lunches are now emphasizing reduced amounts of sugar, fat, and salt. In addition, involvement of parents and students advisory groups have been successful in promoting school lunch programs, introducing new foods to add menu variety and reducing plate waste.

Creative sack lunches can also help beat the boredom of routine midday meals. They, too, can meet the meal pattern criteria as outlined above.

Try these tips:

Breads — Enriched, fortified, and especially whole-grain breads are the ticket. Compared to white breads, whole grain breads naturally provide more of some essential nutrients and fiber. For sandwiches try: pita, raisin, cracked wheat, whole wheat, pumpernickel, rye, or black bread. English muffins or bagels. A no-sandwich lunch can still include bread products, such as muffins, homemade quick breads, bread sticks or whole grain or enriched crackers.

Sandwich Fillings — Break away from the bologna routine! Luncheon meats are fine sometimes, but to keep fat and salt intake down, try these for a change:

Low-fat cottage cheese is a healthful and versatile filling. Season it with herbs; mix it with chopped, fresh vegetables or canned, or dried fruits. You can even use it to supplement other fillings like grated cheese, chopped egg, canned tuna, etc.

Crunchy fresh vegetables add vitamins, fiber, and flavor to the plainest sandwich. Push beyond lettuce and tomato by layering slices of cucumber, peppers, zucchini, mushrooms, carrots, or radishes on your sandwich. Also try green onion stalks, spinach, sprouts, and chopped cauliflower or broccoli. Avoid wilted vegetables and soggy bread by wrapping vegetables separately and adding to sandwiches just before eating.

Go-withs — Expensive, salty, greasy snack foods appeal because of their crunch and spice. Many more nutritious snacks can taste as good. Vegetable sticks, crackers, sprinkled with herbs, cheese, or with peanut butter or cheese dunked in yogurt dip; homemade popcorn, popcorn, unsalted pretzels, unsweetened cereal, bread sticks, or whole grain or enriched crackers.

Desserts — Fresh fruits contain sugar but it's not as concentrated as the sugars found in most prepared desserts. Try an apple, a juicy orange, or homemade fruit salad.

If an occasional sweet is too tempting, you can control the quality and the amount of sugar if you make your own. Fruited muffins, pumpkin or other quick breads, oatmeal cookies and granola crackers can satisfy the craving and provide some essential nutrients as well. Try plain yogurt — spiced and fruitied at home. Or get creative with cereal by adding dried chopped nuts, seeds, or dried fruits.

Is a "brown bag" preferable to a lunch box? Not really. Insulated lunch boxes are the most preferred because they can retain coldness much better than a paper bag. Plus, the lunch box is only a one-time expense, and over a period of time is more economical. If you use brown bags, use those that have not been used for groceries and other items that could accidentally contaminate the food.
